CANADIAN INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS

Calgary, July 14th.—The demand for a foreign trade commission to represent the Western provinces, exclusively, originated by the Alberta, Canada, Industrial Development Association and urged by the President of that organization from ocean to ocean in many special addresses before public bodies, seems to be certain of ultimate fulfillment, if one may judge by advices received at the headquarters of the Canadian Industrial Congress, August 11-16, from many sources.

Advices to this effect were received from Winnipeg, from Vancouver and even from Ottawa, and it is now apparent that many members of the Dominion Government look with favor on the idea.

The proposal for a foreign trade commission for the west was originated by Mayor M. A. Brown of Medicine Hat, President of the Alberta Industrial Association. It is based on the belief that only by a proper investigation of the foreign markets for Western Canadian products can the West build up industry to its maximum. Such an investigation, it is explained by Mayor Brown, would deal specifically with those possible markets for Canadian products lying on and adjacent to the Pacific ocean routes of traffic and the vast undeveloped Oriental marts.

Mayor Brown holds to the belief that eventually Western Canada will be a large scale manufacturing area because of the vast natural resources in this connection in China and Japan as well as along the western coast of South America and in Australia.

"The world does realize," Mr. Brown points out, "that one-seventh of the population of the globe is living and striving and working along the banks of one river alone in China. The possibility of the development of this wonderful market is just one aspect of the great trade which Western Canada and the western portion of the United States will have the great opportunity to deal with."

"Great economists of the day, men of vision, see the development of the Pacific regions as the most striking aspect of the future of our continent. I may add that by Pacific regions I include the inland provinces as well as our own, Alberta, Canada."

Strong support is being given the project for a Western foreign trade commission, especially in Vancouver, B.C., Victoria, B.C., Seattle, Portland and other western cities more easterly, such as Winnipeg, Regina and Saskatoon. All these cities will be represented by good delegations at the forthcoming industrial congress, to be held in Alberta in August. The principal or "educational" sessions of this congress will be held in Calgary, August 13 and 14. The industrial men of the continent are being asked to participate.

MINIMUM PRICE FOR WHEAT MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Ottawa, July 15.—In order to give stability to the financing of the Canadian wheat crop of the present year, and safeguard prices from too violent speculation due to the opening of grain exchanges in the present uncertain and unsettled conditions, it is probable that the Dominion government will fix a minimum price, which it will guarantee to dealers, bankers and others interested in the crop movement. It is not the intention that this minimum price shall be the price at which wheat must be sold in Canada. Trading may take place freely on the exchanges at any price or prices which may be offered.

The purpose will be to fix a minimum price at which the government will be prepared to take wheat should the price fall to this minimum figure. The fixing of a minimum appears necessary to ensure stability and bring about the movement of the crop.

CHAUTAUQUA NEWS

This is a year for real service to the nation and the Chautauqua is prepared for the task. "The clearest thinkers in all America are rallying to the call and are going out over the beaten and unbeat paths to reach the very soul of the nation with an unshakable explanation of the after-the-war problems."

The lecture of the first night by Dr. William H. Miller, "The Making of a Man," is of sterling worth. Dr. Miller is rated as one of the foremost speakers of the country, as well as being a journalist and author of wide reputation.

Mrs. Zehner's lecture on the second night is another one of the high lights of the week. It is a splendid constructive appeal for better citizenship. One of the strongest men on the lecture platform today is Glen Frank, associate editor of the Century Magazine. His lecture "The New Order," "The New Disorder" is a sweeping survey of the forces of unrest that are abroad in the world today, and some of the remedies to correct same.

The other lecturers of the week are E. J. Klemme, one of the most prominent educators of the Northwest; Edna Ruggela Lowe, well-known health lecturer and physical culture expert; Dr. G. Whitfield Ray, who brings a remarkable story of fourteen years experience in South America, and Mrs. Mildred Leo Clemens, who brings an illustrated lecture of immense interest on Hawaii.

The big musical feature of the week will be the coming of the White House in two concerts on the fourth day. For several years this organization has been in musical halls, bringing the best Eastern circuits. Nine young men, all of whom sing well and are masters of the piano, comprise the organization.

To the Merritts Entertainers, four charming vocalists, comes the honor of opening the Chautauqua. To the last in music they add the finest of entertainment. The second day brings the prominent Boston tenor, Anthony Gurnino, with Mary McKinnon, talented Canadian pianist. Gurnino was formerly one of the leading soloists of the Boston Operatic Company, and possesses a voice of unusual range.

The third day marks the coming of Antonio Minervini, master of the piano recital. This young Italian pianist makes the difficult instrument talk. On the fifth day comes the Metropolitan Artists, headed by Mary Welch, American contralto. Joe Pulk, cellist, member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and Oscar Wagner, a brilliant pianist, are the other two members of this splendid trio of artists.

The last day brings one of the musical feature events of the week, in the coming of the Royal Hawaiian Quartette under the direction of Albert Viera. Included in this company of Hawaiian vocalists are the famous Kokoiki, the originator and wizard of the steel method of guitar playing. The evening concert is supplemented by Mildred Leo Clemens's travelingogue of Hawaii, "Rambling Through Paradise," illustrated with fascinating views and some remarkable motion pictures of Mt. Kilauea, Hawaii's active volcano.

Two entertainment features of unusual interest during the week lie in the afternoon programmes of "Tom Corwin" on the third day, and Lydia Pounesheko on the last day. Tom Corwin is a polyphonic or imitator of sounds, imitating the play of Miss Pounesheko is a dramatic interpreter of unusual talents. Her character portraits are unusually real and vivid.

POPLAR RIDGE PRESENTATION

On Monday evening about sixty people, members of Mrs. Reid's S.S. class, and friends gathered at the schoolhouse to spend a social evening as Mrs. Reid is leaving next week. Mrs. Reid has been our superintendent and teacher for a number of years here. We shall all miss her in our Sunday school and now there will be a vacant place which can never be filled unless Mrs. Reid returns. The ladies brought cake, and ice-cream, and the way it disappeared showed that the crowd did ample justice to the ice-cream, especially as there were six big freezers full. At the close of the evening, Mr. Hart Mrs. H. Veal and Mrs. Archibald sang "Jesus Saviour, pilot me," very nicely. Mrs. Reid was presented with a beautiful gold brooch set with pearls as a token of appreciation for her untiring efforts and work in the church here. Mr. Ralph Wilkins gave the address of presentation on behalf of the school. We all wish Mrs. Reid God-speed in her new home at Victoria, B.C.

CRERAR DENIES ASSERTION HE IS CREDITED WITH

Winnipeg, July 15.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, in an interview, categorically denies statements made by western members of the federal house who have supported the budget in which they asserted that the former minister of agriculture would have supported the government if the tariff had been left untouched.

Mr. Crerar said: "The assertion made in the paragraph in connection with the mention of my name is one which I cannot discuss without making disclosure of what took place at a cabinet meeting, which I am bound in honor not to do. But I can make the statement that the impression conveyed by that assertion in connection with my name is wholly incorrect. That is all I have to say."

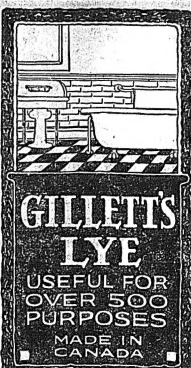

NOT NICE

William Huggins was angry, and he certainly appeared to have some justification for wrath.

"Liza," he expostulated, "don't I always tell you I won't have the kids bringing in the coal from the shed in my best hat. It ain't nice, Liza."

"Just listen to reason, if you please, Bill," said his wife, coldly. "You have seen the state of that hat with your funny head, and, as you're working coal all day at the wharf, what can a little extra coal dust in your hat matter?"

"You don't see the point, Liza," said William, with dignity. "I only wear that 'at I know heven't, and it's white. I'm out of it, and it's black. It leaves a black band round my forehead. What's the consequence? Why, I gets accused of washin' my face with my 'at on. And it ain't nice, Liza."

DIRIGIBLE R. 34 REACHES BRITAIN

TAKING APPROXIMATELY 70 HOURS ON RETURN JOURNEY

Pulham, Norfolk, Eng. July 13.—Great Britain's mammoth airship, the dirigible R-34, arrived at the station here at 8.55 o'clock Greenwich mean time today, completing her round trip from the British Isles to the United States and return.

The R-34, which was launched from the north-east of this village, and after circling the flying fields several times, landed on the grassy ground, and ten minutes later was housed in the dirigible shed. The voyage from Long Island was without particular incident. The voyage was completed in approximately 76 hours.

Soon after daybreak 40 men stationed at the airship were roused from their sleep to prepare for the launching of the trans-Atlantic voyager. Lookouts took positions in towers and wireless operators prepared to pick up messages from the airship. The sun rose brightly, but soon afterwards was obscured by clouds. There was no wind, and those on watch were confident that the dirigible would arrive on time.

Shouts from those on the field greeted the first sight of the long, egg-shaped airship. As the dirigible R-34 approached the field, she dropped from a height of 5,000 feet to 2,000 feet. The men who were to add the airship in landing were ordered to their positions and waited silently as the ship circled the field, dropping lower and lower.

When Major G. H. Scott, her commander, had manoeuvred the airship into the position for landing, the water ballast was thrown overboard to steady her, and a rope was thrown from the bow. The rope was grasped by eager hands and the giant ship moved gently across the field to the shed, where the delicate operation of berthing her was completed without accident.

A military band stationed on the field played "The Call of Duty" as the airship began to settle, then changed to the strains of "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

As the ship was warped into the shed the band played "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The crowd was too intent in watching the ship to notice the music, while the whirr of the propellers made it inaudible to the men in the R-34.

The tired, unshaven, but smiling men who composed her crew quickly climbed upon the gondola and were greeted warmly with many slaps on the back by the officers and soldiers gathered on the field.

"The voyage home has been without incident," said Major Scott. "We wait breakfast."

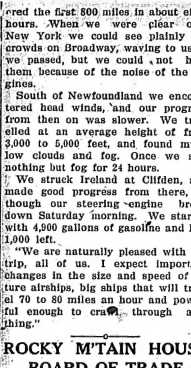

After breakfast, and while enjoying the hotel luxury of his little bungalow, Major Scott told the story of the return flight.

"We estimated we would make it in from 70 to 80 hours," he said. "We made it in 75. When we left we had a strong wind behind us and we covered the first 800 miles in about eight days. When the wind cleared away New York we could see plainly the crowds on Broadway, waving to us as we passed, but we could not hear them because of the noise of the engines."

South of Newfoundland we encountered head winds, and our progress slowed down. We were travelling at an average height of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet, and found much low clouds and fog. Once we saw nothing but fog for 24 hours.

We struck Ireland at Clifden, and made good progress from there, although our steering engine broke down Saturday morning. We started with 4,500 gallons of gasoline and had 1,000 left.

We are naturally pleased with the trip. All of us expect important changes in the size and speed of future airships, big ships that will travel 70 to 80 miles an hour and powerful enough to cross through anything."

30,000 STILL TO COME

Ottawa, July 14.—Cable advices on June 12, received at the militia department from England, place the number of men still to be returned to Canada at approximately 30,000. As the movement of troops depend on shipping facilities, it is difficult to state definitely when the last of the C.E.F. will reach Canada, but another month should see things pretty well cleaned up.

Political Railroad

Government operation of the United States railways is becoming more of a farce under peace conditions than it was in the most straits of the war. It will be recalled that Mr. McAdoo recommended to Congress before he retired from the directorship of the railways that government operation should be continued over a period of five years, in order that the country might judge and pass judgment on the respective merits of government and private operation.

For the month of April the railways showed an increase in the volume of business of 4.9 per cent; but there was a decrease of 63.7 in net income. This loss in net revenue, regarded despite the fact that freight and passenger rates have been increased about 50 per cent, since the government took over the railways and began to operate them. The promising increase in net earnings during peace conditions proved to be a steadily-increasing deficit.

During the first four months of the present year there has been a net loss for railway operation of $185,000,000 notwithstanding the increase of rates. The financial expert of the New York Times gives the following figures relating to government operation this year, taken from the records of the Federal Department of Railways:

In comparison with the three-year average upon which the government rents the railways there was an increase of $110,117,000 in gross earnings and a loss of $44,182,000 in net income. (This is for April only.) Over the four months of this year there was an increase of $447,850,000 in gross earnings and a decrease of $174,412,000 in net income. The loss of 72 per cent in net earnings is not too bad for THE GOVERNMENT $65,804,000 WITH WHICH TO PAY $240,000,000.

What more convincing object lesson of the failure of government ownership of the railways than these two totals, an increase of $447,000,000 in gross earnings and a decrease of $174,000,000 in net income? This means a difference of more than $600,000,000 between government and private operation in the short period of four months, or of $1,800,000,000 in a single year.

Part of that loss is due to mismanagement and part of it to padding the railroad pay rolls. Senator Cummins, formerly an advocate of government ownership, read statistics in the Senate recently to back his assertion that the government was "useless men in the employ of the Railway Administration." He said that in their "padding" plan there was no without incurring the service in the past. In other words, there are 600,000 men employed in the political positions under the railway management.

Little wonder that the Democrats have cut government ownership from their party platform and are supporting the railway.

Johnson failed to make any mention of it in their "padding" plan there was no without incurring the service in the past. In other words, there are 600,000 men employed in the political positions under the railway management.

THE LIQUOR ACT

An eminent lawyer, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League in the United States, made the claim the other day that "the sale of 23 per cent beer would keep alive the liquor trade and defeat the purpose of national prohibition." That has been the result in Alberta without a doubt. The brewers claim they are doing a bigger business than ever before making 2 per cent beer and the liquor interests are growing bolder every day. The same speaker said: "Authority of Congress to fix one-half of one per cent as the maximum alcoholic contents of beverages in prohibition enforcement legislation, is clear." There is far more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol in some temperance drinks, we understand, and more than one-half per cent of alcohol in certain articles of food such as potatoes, and even in bread. Will they eventually be cut out? Already in Alberta the Liquor Act is in a state of disintegration, and we predict it will go the way of all temperance acts passed during the last fifty years. There was the old Dunkin Bill, carried about forty years ago, which was soon laughed at by the people; followed about ten years later by the Scott Act, which was an improvement, but still unworkable. Then prohibition in the North-west Territories, which was the joke of everybody in the early days. Local option in Ontario followed, and was fairly successful. Now we have the Liquor Act of Alberta. It was popular for a time, as it was carried by a large vote of the people, and the liquor interests were stunned. But the act is going the same road the other acts travelled, and the going was to be greatly assisted by the ease with which liquor is obtained. This is the fault of the government and it is up to the government to find a way to stop the evil or repeal the act. No blame can be attached to the doctors who are the authorized medium through which liquor is dispensed, so long as they act within the law. Nor can a druggist be blamed for selling liquor on a doctor's order, with government authority. There is nothing will take the place of liquor, in the opinion of most doctors, as a necessary stimulant in certain cases, and they are justified in ordering sealed parcels of guaranteed purity to a smaller quantity of loose liquor, which may be the vilest and most dangerous concoction, and do the patient more harm than good. That this privilege is abused is true, and that it makes hypocrites, liars and perjurers out of a number of otherwise law-abiding citizens is also true, as stated on the floor of the Anglican Synod by Col. Sanders, police magistrate of Calgary, backed up strongly by the ex-chancellor, a prominent lawyer of Lethbridge, in a motion asking for the repeal of the Act. The motion was defeated by an amendment which, although agreeing with the main motion in part, asked that the Act be amended to remedy this evil. This amendment was condemned by the W.C.T.U. of Red Deer.

AN ORGY OF EXTRAVAGANCE

Westminster Gazette.—It cannot be contended that there is not free wealth enough in the country to clear up all the short-term debts and to pay the Chancellor of the Exchequer with the comparatively small sum of new money which he requires. On all sides there is an ostentatious display of money, an orgy of extravagance, such as surpassed all previous experience. We see a real danger to the state in this condition. The reckless squandering of money is not lost on the working classes, who are not observers of events.

THANK GOD FOR VICTORY

Hamilton Spectator.—God is not at ways on the side of the big battalions; but He is always on the side of right. "God and my right" is the British motto which has made the British race foremost in the world. Are we so soon to forget the great moral taught by the late war? The forces of evil can never ultimately prevail, however strong and how ever unscrupulous. If we are going to pin our faith to armaments and military efficiency alone, we are indeed the blindest and foolishest of creatures. There is a fate as inevitable as that of Germany's today. There is an inviolable principle of justice in the world, against which man pits his puny strength in vain. It is to the eternal God of justice that we lift up our hearts in this hour of our deliverance. All honor to the brave men who have fought the good fight for right, and to God be praise!

PASSING OF JOHN BARLEYCORN

Los Angeles Times.—The First of July marked the passing of John Barleycorn. Throughout the land of Uncle Sam the finish of booze is seen. Prohibition has won its victory. Over a century ago, Bobbie Burns mockingly sang: "There were three kings into the east, three things both great and high; and they have sworn a solemn oath that John Barleycorn should die." But the poet sang the discomfiture of the kings, and toasted J. B. as a "hero bold of noble enterprise." In the writings of Gil Blas, however, you will find the original Prohibitionist, one Doctor Sanzolo, of Valladolid. He denounced wine as a pleasure with a dagger "neath its garble, and advocated confining liquor to the apothecaries' shop. The text exists now only in literature. The wasail and the bumper are obsolete. Toasts to victors and conquerors are matters of ancient history. Times have changed. A busy world has no time to be hoarse. The battle has gone against the bottle.

The Mennonites of Manitoba continue to refuse to send their children to the public schools. The question of compelling them to do so is being fought out in the courts, and they say they will appeal to the Privy Council before they are through. One of their leaders declared before the court that the reason they came to Canada from Russia was because this was the only country which would allow them the religious liberties they demanded. Although Canada, according to their own admission, is the freest country on earth, no sooner do they get here than they start at once to rebel against our laws. There is only one way to deal with such people, and that is to pack them back to Russia from whence they came by the first train.

DR. WILLIAM RADER

Noted Writer and Divine comes First

Dr. William Rader, author, journalist and lecturer, who comes on the opening night of Chautauque is one of the prominent figures of the American platform. Peter Clark McFarland in Colliers rates him as one of the twelve great speakers of the country. The style of his address is marked with simplicity, naturalness and force. His purpose is not only to entertain, but to enthrall, inspire and inform.

RED DEER FAIR

From almost every standpoint, the Red Deer Fair will go down into history as a record breaker, and the directors hope to come out with a reasonable balance on hand, despite the cost of the improvements which will sit up their Dominion grant for 1918.

Veterans' Day was a unique and successful event at this year, and with it was combined Red Deer's peace celebration. The people had the pleasure of welcoming Col. Robinson, Major McMorris, Capt. Reed and Curtis, Lt. Hunt and Sergeant Major Harvey, of the 15th, as well as quite a number of the rank and file from the district. A parade of members of different units enlisting at Red Deer, headed by the Band, marched to the Fair grounds, where Mayor Lord, ex-Mayor Smith, the Aldermen, and Commissioner Stephenson presented the certificates of appreciation and remembrance which had been prepared. The certificates were worded as follows:

"This certificate of appreciation and remembrance is presented by the City Council of Red Deer, Alberta, on behalf of the citizens of Red Deer, to the greatest men and women of this city and the immediate district who so loyally and faithfully gave service with the military forces of the Empire during the great war. The high honor they brought to Canada will never be forgotten; their name shall live forever."

"G. W. SMITH, Mayor."

"A. T. STEPHENSON, Commissioner."

Immediately preceding the presentation, Mayor Lord, on behalf of the citizens of Red Deer, thanked the boys for what they had done, and concluded by saying that the town was justly proud of its fighting sons. His appreciation was nowhere more fittingly expressed than in Gen. Currie's address to the bandstand forces, which he read.

The presentation had its solemn side, when the certificates of the boys who had fallen were presented to widow or parents. Col. Robinson, on behalf of the recipients, thanked the boys for the honor shown them. Red Deer had done its duty in the war, and he commended the returned men to the consideration of the citizens that Red Deer might do its duty in peace.

The Mayor announced that any not getting certificates could procure them at any time from Commissioner Stephenson.

The Veterans' sports programme comprised two snappy ball games between Red Deer and the Calgary Veterans, which were won by the home team by 6 to 1 and 7 to 6. Percy Smith hurried full ball for Red Deer, while Branton held him in good style. Glover and McEwen formed the battery for the victors in the first game, while Goodland and Gibson were the battery in the second game.

Red Deer line-up: Branton; C. Smith; Connelley; B. Hamley; 2b; Catina; 3b; Sattina; 3b; Lowe; 1b; Markie; 1b; Roanick; 2b.

The races resulted as follows: Half mile race—C. G. Markie, Wm. Reid, W. Roberts. 75 yards ladies' race (soldiers' wives) Mrs. Ella Condon; Mrs. Fairman, Red Deer; Mrs. A. Hadley, Red Deer. Obstacle race—Landman, Calgary; Turner, Calgary; Landman, Calgary. 800 yards bicycle race—C. G. Markie, L. Clutterbuck.

Sack race, 100 yards—Turner, Calgary; Munch, Calgary; Landman, Calgary.

Band novelty race—Cash Mahaffy, W. Malcolm, Innisfail; H. Gaetz. 100 yards dash, open—Glover, Calgary; Gibson, Calgary; J. Puck, Cardston.

Long jump—Gibson, Rimbey, 16 ft. 2 inches; Glover, Calgary, 15 ft.; Puck, Cardston, 16 ft. High jump—C. W. Alkman, 5 ft. C. Smith.

Boys' race—George Reid, E. Meeson, Townsend.

Girls' race—P. Houston, Doris Hamon, Townsend.

Pillow fight—Leonard, Assiniboia; P. E. Kent's special, J. McManan, G. Reid.

The Veterans put on a very realistic attack on the Wednesday evening, having received guns and equipment from Calgary to assist them in their plans. The aeroplane signalled that a Hotchkiss battery had been sighted, and notified headquarters, which ordered the capture of the battery. This was to be accomplished by a camouflage attack from the front (the west) while the main attack was to come from the flank. The front attack was led by Lieut. Jones and the flank attack by Major Meeson. Both were accompanied by scouts, stretcher bearers and ambulance, and supported by tanks (tractors). The Hotchkiss battery discovered that the flank was the main attack, when the boys went over the top, and turned its attention in that direction, whereupon the front attack started real business and both attacks swept on and captured both batteries, bringing back the guns and the prisoners. The front attack went through the brush in the south of the Exhibition grounds, and the flank attack coming through the draw in the oval. Lieut. Col. Faye, Col. Robinson, Major Meeson and others lent aid in planning the attack and carrying it out. Some thirty-five men participated in the manoeuvres, while the noise of the shells, the smoke, and the firing made the attack quite realistic. The Veterans deserve great credit for putting on the performance, and the audience a lot of difficulties in working out their details and getting their material.

The Veterans put on three dances during the Fair, the last one being free to all veterans and their ladies. The attendance of veterans and the ladies was such that the proceeds Wednesday night were over $150. The Vets' orchestra supplied the music.

FIFTH SEMI-MONTHLY CROP REPORT

Of Department of Agriculture

Edmonton, July 15.—A survey of crops on June 30th, showed that the important wheat lands of Southern Alberta are in a precarious condition. This unfavorable condition in the south country has since been confirmed and intensified.

In the south the situation briefly is this: there was sufficient moisture from snow or spring rains to germinate the grain and crops came up satisfactorily. There was not sufficient moisture below to constitute a reservoir for the steady supply of moisture to crops for subsequent growth and there has not been sufficient rain since.

There have been showers over many parts of the south since that but in no cases have these showers been heavy enough to saturate down even to the little moisture that there was below, and so induce any water movement in the crops. The rains that have occurred over the whole of this area have been showers that have wet the surface soil, but only to a depth of about an inch. They have quickly evaporated without becoming effective to the furthering of crop growth, as it needs to go at least four or five inches down. The crops that had reached some height and were standing still at the end of the month have since gone back. High winds have persisted throughout practically all of Southern Alberta, and the grain that is headed out is bleached at the top of the head, is empty at the bottom of the head and only has a few grains in the middle.

There are not a great many localities that will be able to even supply their own seed in the country tributary to the Crown's Nest Range and on the Alberta line. Crops that grew fairly well at points between Lethbridge and Medicine Hat on the Southern branch, likewise on the main line of the C.P.R. have been subject to very heavy reduction for the past three weeks.

Many people are holding their crops in the hope that they may get seed for next year but they are not willing to cut them for feed where they have reached any height and trust to some other arrangement for feed next year. There are limited localities also where farmers will not get more than seed. The country on the main line of the C.P.R. tributary to the railway between Gleichen and Bassano and also north to the Goose Lake line between Rockyford and Drumheller will have some crop but cases of this kind are not sufficiently numerous to affect the unfavorable conditions over the whole area. There is nothing to be said except that the grain crop in Southern Alberta is a failure. The future and hay are equally light and the situation is bad for live stock and equally precarious for the welfare of the settlers and their families.

The scarcity of hay in Central Alberta and the prices that will have to be paid for it are going to be impossible for Southern Alberta to buy Alberta hay to feed their stock. The chances for disposing of stock are also poor. The local markets can not absorb and re-distribute the live stock of the south and the prices obtainable by southern farmers for their stock are not what they should be. There seems a need of finding an outside market for the stock. Flax is standing still and will not realize very much of a crop. On the Solbe farm there is a large area of rye. This crop has withstood the drought better than wheat and oats.

The opposite end of the province, namely, the Peace River country, continues to have bountiful rains and high temperatures. The crop is making good progress and it is generally heavy. In a few localities there is almost too much moisture. While the conditions in the Peace River are good the total area is not of importance compared with Central or Southern Alberta.

Central Alberta is in about the same situation as it was at the time of its last report. The eastern side continues dry and all of the country needs rain, but considering the absence of general rains the crops in most parts of Central Alberta are standing up pretty well. They have made some growth since the last report and there is no new limiting factor to the success of the crop but it will scarcely be a full crop.

What in Central Alberta that has been sown on breaking or summer-fallow will be considerably over half a crop. On spring plowing it will not be so good. The oat crop is the most important crop of Central Alberta. The early oats are rather short and can not be a real good crop. The oats that have been sown late have rather better prospects. They are showing strong and have plenty of time for a good crop yet if we have a reasonable amount of rain. Six weeks of favorable weather would make things fairly satisfactory in Central Alberta.

The hay crop is quite light as to both native and tame hay and there will be practically no surplus in any part of the province for the southern stockmen. The characteristic trouble with the central district is that it has not had any heavy rains. There have been a number of small showers over most parts of this division. They have benefited the crops a little and have kept the weather cooler and high winds have ceased, but for even an ordinary harvest good rains are necessary.

WODDER WILL BE IMPORTED FOR ALBERTA CATTLE

Manitoba Will Be Called On To Help Relieve Situation

The scheme of the Alberta government for alleviating the situation caused by the lack of feed, due to the drought, is to import fodder from Manitoba, the cost to be borne one-third by the federal government, one-third by the province, and one-third by the railways. By this arrangement the province bears a share of the load, whereas last year it was divided between the federal government and the railways.

The announcement was made here by Premier Charles Stewart, who made a brief stop in the city, en route from Banff home to Edmonton. Mr. Stewart was accompanied by Hon. Archie McLean, minister of public works, and George Skelting, M.L.A., of Macleod.

Discussing the drought situation, Mr. Stewart said the importation of feed presented less difficulty than the sale of stock in the drought area, which is also proposed. In areas where the drought has been greatest, the cattle are in poorest condition for selling.

Mr. McLean incidentally remarked that this is badly needed because the improvement work on the Calgary-Banff road can be completed. About four miles of the road remain to be graded and some ten miles in all are completed.

Premier Stewart also said a report that he intended to be in attendance at the Liberal convention to be held in Ottawa next August.

SMALL PERCENTAGE OF ALCOHOL ALLOWED

Authority Given To Make Maximum One Half of One Per Cent.

Washington, July 16.—Authority of Congress to fix one half of one per cent is the maximum alcoholic content of beverages in prohibition enforcement legislation, is clear, Wayne Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, declared today before the senate judiciary sub-committee, in answer to recent statements of Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the brewers.

"To allow the sale of 2 1/2 per cent beer," said Mr. Wheeler, "would keep alive the liquor trade and defeat the purpose of national prohibition. Prohibition does not want a code unless it defines intoxicating liquors."

LOBSTOCK U. F. A. PICNIC ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE

The members of the Lobstock U.F.A. attending their first picnic, entertained to be congratulated on the success and dance on Friday, July 11. A good many old timers were in attendance and it was the best ever staged at Leslieville. It is estimated that there were about three hundred people in attendance at the picnic, and a good many stayed to the dance which ended in the wee small hours of the following morning, everyone being very well satisfied with the excellent music provided by some. The greatest event of the afternoon was a basketball match between Rocky Mountain House and Leslieville, which ended in a win for the Leslieville boys. The foot races and pony races were well worth watching.

PLAN SALE OF PART OF STOCK IN BURNT AREA

THIS IMPORTATION OF FEED FOR DEALING WITH SITUATION. THE GOVERNMENT PROPOSES

Calgary, July 16.—Sale of a certain proportion of the stock in the dried out areas and the importation of feed from Manitoba and eastern Canada are the means proposed by the Alberta government to alleviate the situation created by the partial crop failure. This announcement was made last evening by Premier Stewart, that one-third of the cost of transportation will be borne by the province, one-third by the Dominion government, and the remaining third waived by the railway companies, if the plan suggested by the Alberta government meets with acceptance. Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, has, according to Mr. Stewart, been devoting much attention to the problem for some time past, and is hopeful that a solution of the present difficulties will be arrived at on the lines proposed.

MARKET FOR STOCK

In Mr. Stewart's opinion, the transportation of feed present fewer difficulties than the disposal of stock from the areas which have suffered from drought. There is a good market for fat stock, but it is in the areas that have suffered most that the stock is not in the most suitable condition for marketing.

Referring to the necessity of extended credit for the settlers who have been financially reduced by successive crop failures, Mr. Stewart said that companies had been received that mortgage companies were not always disposed to grant such credit. It would appear to be eminently desirable in their own interests that they should consider the interests of the settlers who, owing to unfavorable weather conditions, would be unable to meet their obligations at once. This was a matter in which the master in chambers had power to assist. The provincial government had no power to interfere.

WANT EXTENSION OF CREDIT

One of the districts in which the farmers have suffered most is Macleod, and a delegation from that constituency last evening waited on Geo. Skelting, M.P., for the constituency to urge the need for extending credit. Speaking after Mr. Skelting said that a very strong case for extension of credit existed, and it was to be hoped that the mortgage companies would recognize this.

ing, but the boys want to be more energetic in future and not let their ponies run away with the young ladies. The supper was one all could wish for, during the entertainment a speech was given by Mr. Parsons, of Horn Hill, a most able and entertaining speaker, who had the audience with him all the time he was speaking. The members of the C.P.R. and its friends who took part in the entertainment are to be congratulated on the success of their splendid programme.

Fishing Before Business: Back at 7 p.m.

(1) Kaslo, B.C., on the Beautiful Upper Kootenay Lake.

(2) Quiet Fishing in Noisy Waters.

Fishermen who like a tent to live in, log fires, provisions from a country grocery store, fish that they catch themselves and roast on campers or on a frying pan that they provide, should take Upper Kootenay Lake into consideration when thinking of deciding on a fishing trip. This lake and the streams that feed it are less well known to anglers outside of British Columbia than they should be.

Salmon-fishing is unexcelled in the lake. B. McGregor, who is an enthusiastic Kaslo sportsman, says: "I have locked my store door, walked across the street, jumped into a row boat, let out a line and got a salmon in less than half an hour." The best season for salmon fishing is from May 15th to June 30th, and from the beginning of September to the middle of November. Mr. McGregor again says: "I got a 19-lb. salmon within half a mile of my door on the 20th of November last." This hearty Scotchman, who came from Vile-shire, the same part of Scotland as the birthplace of the late Sir William Wallace, former Vice-President of the C.P.R., knows all that is to be known about the Kootenay Lake fishing region. He recommends fly fishing to go to the mouth of the creeks in July, August and September. "I do considerable fishing myself," he declares. "In fact, I am honest about my weakness. When they are biting good I often

This lake and the streams that feed it are less well known to anglers outside of British Columbia than they should be.

There are several good guides for fishermen available at Kaslo. For salmon fishing it is best to make Kaslo headquarters, and take the waters in a row-boat. Fly fishers are recommended to furnish themselves with bread, butter, any canned goods they need, a frying pan, blanket, and canvas for a tent, then take a motor launch and go to the mouth of some of the best fishing creeks, and then pitch a tent. If the instructions to call back a few days later, and then pitch a tent. If the campers know anything at all about fishing they are likely to find all the trout they can eat and lots to bring home with them. Those who have undertaken such a holiday say that if we all could have a few weeks of this kind of life annually there would be less patient medicine concerns in the country.

Big game hunters also find a sphere for their activities in the neighbourhood of Kaslo, five miles from the C.P.R. line, in the hunting season. Deer abound, and black, brown and grizzly bears are numerous. A government agent of Kaslo issues licenses to game hunters. It is located and decided to clear the brush and establish a townsite. Originally it was called Kane's Landing, but as the community grew, a picturesque Indian name signifying "the place where the blackberries grew" was adopted. Sixteen years ago the early residents began to plant fruit trees, and to-day there is no more successful orchard country in Canada, cherries being particularly plentiful. For this the mild climate is largely responsible, the Kootenay Lake never freezing over. The city is surrounded by mining camps providing lead, zinc, copper, silver, and gold.

The W.C.T.U. will serve supper on Mrs. J. McMillan's lawn on Saturday, July 26th, at 6 o'clock. For 50c you can get a good substantial supper. Those who wish can have supper served on the European plan. Patrons of the Chautauqua are cordially invited to attend.

Peter Olson, one of Red Deer's old timers, but now of Sandon, B.C., on the Arrowhead Lake, was a visitor to the fair. As an old director he was anxious to know the fair was growing, and he was surprised and pleased to find that we now had one of the best fairs in Western Canada.

John Kemmis, M.P.P., Pincher Creek, was in the city on Monday spying out the land in quest of feed for stock next winter. He showed how scarce feed was in the south by stating that a certain bunch of men needed 10,000 tons of hay for feed, and all they had in sight was 700 tons.

The 187th men formed an Association on Wednesday afternoon. Col. Robinson presiding. Major H. Meeres was elected president, a Stettler man vice-president, and Harold Haste secretary. The colors were left in the hands of Lieut.-Col. Robinson. A meeting will be held at Stettler on Labor Day, to decide on future action.

Our old friend, T. Gudmundson, of Elfrus, Sask., was in Red Deer last week. He was here to see his daughter who arrived in Saskatchewan. He returned by auto, taking his two daughters with him, as they returned from a visit to Banff. Miss Lillian, we understand, has taken a school near her parents' home.

We really believe Calgary sports are the meanest and most contemptible crowd in Alberta. One of these sports fans fault with poor treatment when they visited Red Deer last week. They gave just one hour's notice they were coming at eleven o'clock at night when this city had the biggest crowd of people it had ever had within its borders. Yet accommodation was provided for them that night; whereas if they had come up on the day train they would have been here in plenty of time. It was understood that any team could play ball here at the Fair. It was charged that Percy Smith, who is a veteran, and born and bred in Red Deer, was a Calgary boy. It was Percy who really knocked them into a cocked hat with his pitching, and they couldn't get over it. They charged that players were imported from Edmonton, whereas two young farmers from Eckville helped in the game owing to two of our players being unable to play. Calgary players have the name of being the biggest squabblers, when they lose, in the province, but they are the ones who win. They are poor sports, and do not know how to take a good drubbing gracefully. Such players are an easy mark for a team like Red Deer.
